Entered at the Post Office at Janesville, Wis., as second-class matter.

JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, MONDAY, JANUARY 31, 1881.

Published Every Evening Except Sunday at $7 a Year.

NUMBER 278

It is predicted at Madison that the prohibition amendment to the constitution will not pass.

An interesting dispatch will be found in our telegraphic columns, from Washington, in regard to pensions. It is worth reading, and certainly the subject demands sober reflection.

The purse of $100,000 raised for General Grant in Philadelphia, is now awaiting the General's acceptance. While Philadelphia gets the credit for raising the amount, the business men of New York city contributed more than one half of it.

A report from Cincinnati says Dr. Blackburn, of Kentucky, has been interviewed in regard to cholera the coming season. He is pronounced one of the experienced physicians in this country with cholera, and he gives it as his opinion that it will spread over the United States during the coming season. His theory is that the disease invariably follows upon the heels of an influenza epidemic, and this year has been fruitful in producing such epidemics. It is very true that nature runs to extremes, and it may be true that with an influenza epidemic may exist the conditions for cholera, but in the winters of 1872, and 1873, influenza epidemics existed to a great extent in all the northern States, but cholera did not follow in the summer, so that Dr. Blackburn's theory will not always hold good. This published interview should give no one alarm. There are eight chances out of ten that it will not visit this country this year, and should it appear as predicted by Dr. Blackburn, it must be borne in mind that the disease is very largely under the control of medical science. Where there is cleanliness, pure water, and some regard paid to diet, there is what might be properly called, "an infallible cure for cholera."

ABOUT THE STATE PRISON.

The newspapers of the State have given the public to understand that the State prison is self-supporting. The Gazette, with other daily papers in Wisconsin, have congratulated the State on the exceedingly fortunate and economical management of the prison, and especially upon the supposed fact that the present system of hiring convict labor made the prison self-supporting, or nearly so. Probably the newspapers have been misled by the reports of ex-Warden H. N. Smith, who seems to have put a very rosy coloring to his reports, especially the one which closed his wander on the first of January, 1881. It appears from the facts in the case that why, to an ordinary observer, the prison would seem to have been self-supporting, is that the management has been drawing deficiency annually from the surplus of material on hand when manufacturing was discontinued by the State, and which had accumulated from appropriations to Mr. Wheeler's and Warden Smith's management.

Wishing to do full justice to all persons concerned in the management of the prison from the time the commissioner system was abolished till now, we will give some facts in regard thereto, which have come to our notice. It would seem from reading the report of ex-Warden Smith, that in reality, the prison for several years has been self-supporting, while in his last report he omits to state that during his term of office he had appropriations which in the aggregate amounted to nearly $160,000; and after giving him credit for improvements, and all he claims, yet the prison has cost the State nearly $18,000 a year.

In Warden Smith's last report, on pages 10 and 11, he attempts to show that the cost of the prison above receipts, for the last three months of his administration was no more than at the rate of $9,452.68 a year, and proves that to argue that the prison ought to be run two or three years longer on what he left behind. But on page 29 of the last report it appears that the cost of maintaining the prison, deducting purchases for wagon shops, and debts paid by him prior to October 1, 1879, was $9,788.71. The receipts from all sources except from the sales of stock or material, was $6,780.12, leaving a deficiency of over $3,000 for three months.

There has been apparent intention of omitting some facts to Warden Smith's report, and by this means he has done much to mislead the public. On page 12 of the last report he charges over to Warden Carter property to the amount of $65,000 beside the cash, while the property thus turned over to Carter is made up of partly worn out machinery and tools, and the few ends of twenty years' stock of material. Mr. Smith fails to mention the very important fact that he claimed and was allowed over $30,000 of a reduction and the inventory of his predecessor. This important item was overlooked by Mr. Smith when he wrote his report, and the directors, desiring that justice be done and facts given to the public, stated in a note that during the term of Mr. Smith as warden, he had received from appropriations nearly $160,000; and after paying the cost of permanent improvements and that sort of expense, the prison under his management which lasted for five years and nine months, cost the State in actual round numbers, $122,000, or a little over $21,000 per annum. These facts go to show that the prison has not been self-sustaining, and that with the most rigid economy, it cannot be. We do not desire to get up an issue with ex-Warden Smith on the cost of the State prison during his term, but the Gazette does desire that facts shall be given the public no matter who they strike.

CUMMING'S BILL.

The Five Hundred Million Pension Swindle on the Taxpayers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Having heard that the enormous sum of over $500,000,000 would be required to pay claims under the arrears of pension bill, I called on Tuesday afternoon on Mr. Bentley, of Wisconsin, the commissioner of pensions. He occupies the fire-proof building which Boss Shepherd built, and which broke him down on account of its cost. Mr. Bentley is a youngish man, of a plain, sincere manner, and a countenance which inspires confidence. I asked him what it would cost to pay claims under the new bill.

"I sent an estimate into the appropriation committee yesterday," said Mr. Bentley, "which leaked out, but was wrongly printed in the evening newspaper. The sum I named was $510,000,000. I think it will cost that amount."

"How in the world, Mr. Bentley, did such a bill, involving such consequences, pass?"

"Well, sir, the commission said, quietly, 'I suppose it was because Congress knew so little about what they were passing. They allow committees and individuals to do the work, and take a great deal for granted. They thought this was a bill to help soldiers, and soldiers are voters; so they just let it pass. But the consequences I have to state frankly are chargeable to Congress."

"How did this thing get into legislation, Mr. Bentley?"

"Well, Mr. Rusk, of Wisconsin, proposed a bill, and estimated the cost of pensions under it at about $500,000,000. He was a Republican, General Rice, of Ohio, a Democrat, got up a bill, and he thought the expense would be about $15,000,000. The present bill comes from Mr. Cummings, of Iowa, who is not now in Congress. It was a sweeping bill. Congress passed it without knowing much about it, except that it was a soldier bill; and it will cost $510,000,000."

"What is the nature of the Cummings bill, Mr. Bentley?"

"It became a law," said Mr. Bentley, "the close of January, 1879; but some of its provisions had been enacted earlier. It provides that all pensions, past or future, granted in consequence of either wounds, injuries, or disease contracted in the rebellion, shall commence either from the discharge of the veteran from the service, or from the date of his death. The amendments provide that the rate of the pension shall be graded according to the pensioner's disabilities."

"How much will it cost to pay pensions for the pending year?"

"I think about $50,000,000," said the Commissioner. "It will increase for several years to come. The ratio of the expectation of death is much higher in men who enlisted in the army survived the war than it is in Carlisle's tables of insurance. Heretofore the highest it cost us for pensions has been $20,000,000 a year. The United States, you know, pays more for pensions than all the rest of the Governments of the world."

INAUGURATION DAY.

The Proceedings of the Committee Making the Preliminary Arrangements.

WASHINGTON, January 30.—The proceedings preliminary to the inauguration are in a bad way. They have been in a bad way from the beginning, on account of the scramble of impecunious people in Washington to get control of the management and absorb the money raised in salaries and sinecures. The committee has been reorganized, but there is still great dissatisfaction. The expenses of inauguration ceremonies are usually defrayed by subscriptions by prominent citizens of Washington, hotel men, theaters, street car and railroad companies, and others interested in drawing great crowds to Washington. Many prominent citizens who usually contribute were badly disappointed and soured at the result, and now refuse to pay a cent. But of $100,000 subscribed, but $14,000 has been paid in. One prominent hotel man says he will give nothing, but will decorate his house as usual. The committee appointed to raise money came back with more excuses than funds. The brilliant proposition has been evolved from somebody to assess the clerks in the departments and other officials to raise funds in this way, but this is strenuously objected to on the ground that the officials had been repeatedly drained to pay the expenses of the election, and that was going too far. The original designs for decoration, music and fireworks have been repeatedly modified to meet the condition of the exchequer. It is expected that a very large proportion of the money to pay expenses is to come from the sale of ball tickets for admission to the ball at the new National Museum building, which is to be profusely decorated $5,000 having been raised for that purpose alone. The indications all point to an unusually large crowd from all parts of the country, and rates for hotels and other lodging accommodations are going up proportionately. The chief trouble seems to be that the original plan was altogether too extensive to be practicable, and that a brilliant inauguration will take place even in the face of all present difficulties.

THE THREE MEET AGAIN.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 29th.—Senator-elect Philetus Sawyer, Senator T. O. Howe, and the Hon. E. W. Keyes were prominent arrivals in this city to-day. The three distinguished gentlemen had a pleasant conference at the Newhall house, at which various public questions were casually discussed and all the pros and cons of the cabinet appointments considered. There are now three candidates in Wisconsin for cabinet positions, all of whom have had organized efforts made in their behalf. These are the Hon. Thad C. Pound, E. W. Keyes, and Henry C. Payne. The former has prestige as a representative in Congress; Mr. Keyes has a reputation as a manager of State politics, and enjoys the advantage of a formal recommendation by the recent senatorial caucus for postmaster-general, while Mr. Payne has the indorsement of the present dominant faction of the Republican party in this city. As between Pound and Payne, Mr. Sawyer favors the latter, but Senator Howe is neutral. The friends of each candidate are disposed to regard the prospects as favorable.

THE PARDONING POWER.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—President Hayes has used executive clemency toward the inmates of the penitentiary more than any of his predecessors. The inmates of these institutions evidently appreciate this fully. They know that his term of office is about to expire. The consequence is an overflow of applications for pardon. The friends of the applicants are also busy. The pardon clerk of the department of justice, who makes a preliminary report upon each case that comes up for executive clemency, is kept busy long after office hours in listening to arguments in behalf of convicts, and in filing the papers, put, brought on, forwarded in their behalf.

JUSTICE OUTRAGED.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 30.—The verdict of acquittal in the case of Tom Buford, on trial at Owenton for the murder of Justice J. Elliott, causes a deep sense of indignation in Louisville. Although expected to some extent by the people, the community was hardly prepared for so prompt an acquittal. All sorts of expressions as to the outrage are indulged in, the majority opinion condemning the State rather than the jury. Private telegrams from the brothers of the prisoner plainly show that they were confident of a hung jury, but they were unprepared for an acquittal. Information to private parties as well as the newspapers is to the effect that Buford will undoubtedly be placed in an asylum for the insane as soon as practicable.

SUICIDE.

ELKHORN, January 30.—Charles Brand, a respectable farmer of North Geneva, 60 years of age, suicided last night by hanging in his barn. Mental depression, caused by the sale of his farm with the intention of removing to the far west is attributed as the cause.

ASPHYXIATED.

FOND DU LAC, Jan. 30.—At an early hour yesterday morning George Powers and wife, an aged couple, were found in bed asphyxiated from coal gas. Mr. Powers was dead and his wife unconscious. She will probably recover.

Strong Evidence.

I have sold at retail price since the 14th of December last 156 bottles of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, guaranteeing every bottle. I must say I never sold a medicine in my life that gave such universal satisfaction. In my own case, with a badly Ulcerated Throat, after a physician penciling it for several days to no effect, the Electric Oil cured it thoroughly in twenty-four hours, and in threatened croup in my children this winter it never failed to relieve almost immediately.

CHICAGO GOSSIP.

From our regular Correspondent. CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—The snow, the snow, the beauty—; please excuse me, I shall not be guilty again. There are 723 miles of sidewalk in Chicago, and no city in the Union is more derelict in its duty in keeping the walks clean than this same "Queen of the West." Our laws cannot compel citizens to keep them clear of snow and ice. The city government is powerless, and it is only through the individual effort of all residents that comfort for pedestrians can be secured, and each one should do this voluntarily for their own and the communities welfare.

Saloon licenses will be changed soon and an advance made all around. The city contains to-day over 2,000 low, disreputable places, where vice and immorality abound, and the licenses will be raised on these almost double.

The death from small pox average 10 per cent. per week now. Diphtheria has somewhat abated of late but still many serious cases are constantly reported. Scarlet fever cases are very numerous, and there are many deaths weekly. Croup and other kindred diseases are prevalent in certain districts, but in a mild degree. There are at present nearly $2,000,000 in the city treasury. An economical basis is predicted for the present year, with no issuing of scrip if possible. Many and numerous street improvements are in contemplation, but the comptroller will fight against large appropriations at any one time in order to keep the finances in a satisfactory condition, including taxes, &c., being received right along.

The North Chicago Street company is organized with a cash capital of $2,000,000, all paid up but $250,000,000. The North Chicago Rolling Mill Co. will operate its works, and have a general chance. Very able and efficient officers will conduct its affairs. They are Chicago men.

"Defective flues" are the occasion of many fires in this city. This seemingly unavoidable disorder, is never, or hardly ever investigated. "Defective flues,"—and there are thousands of them in the city—are defects which constantly menace the lives and property of our citizens.

A paper brick manufactory, it is said, will be started in Chicago next spring. Chinese residents here are interested in the project. The sales of their shoes are made of paper similarly prepared.

A gentleman on West Randolph street put out his kerosene lamp the other night, by blowing down the chimney; the house was saved with great difficulty by our energetic firemen, and the doctor thinks that he will be around again and attend to business by May or June probably.

Nearly 400 cars of coal arrived in the city last week. To his credit, John put coal up another quarter, God help the poor. He will help them sometime, but our coal dealers—alas—may still experience in the future as in the past comfortable warmth, where no coal will be sold.

Don't use the cheap animal oil soap that contain so much free alkali that it is fit only for Laundry purposes. The public have not the requisite knowledge of the manufacture of soap to guide them to a proper selection, and so a pretty box, a pretty color, or an agreeable perfume too frequently out weigh the more important consideration, the composition of the soap itself. MISCELLANEOUS.

A RESIDENT OF JANESVILLE

Visited a clothing store the other day to purchase an Overcoat. He saw one at $18.00 that suited him pretty well, but that was more than he wanted to pay. Seeing it was a little late in the season the proprietor would sell it to him for $15.00. A chaise to the door brought the price down to $12.00, and a shy to the sidewalk got the Overcoat at an offer of $10.00. A drop of nearly 50 per cent from price asked, which is a fair sample of closing out at cost sales. Our goods are marked in plain figures to-day at the same prices we have asked since September, and we

H. A. PATTERSON, P. M.

Died of a Broken Heart.
About a year ago Ossian Aldrich, an employee in the Signal Station, while on duty in this city, became acquainted with the family of William Hooper, of No. 118 West Tenth Street. William Hooper who is a prosperous butcher in the Jefferson Market, had a daughter Julia, who is nineteen years old and prettier than it is the general lot of girls to be. Soon after meeting Julia Hooper Aldrich's attentions became very marked, much to the annoyance of the girl's parents. All remonstrances were in vain, however, for in April last Aldrich and Julia Hooper were married by the Rev. Robert Kidd.

About three weeks after the marriage Aldrich went to Washington and soon after the young wife followed him. Only a month was spent there, when the girl returned to her parents. A few days later, Mrs. William Hooper says, a letter from Aldrich announced that he had been ordered to go on an Arctic expedition. Mrs. Hooper, fearing that all was not right, advised her daughter to go to Washington at once, which she did. There, it is said, the girl heard that Aldrich was already married, but this Aldrich stoutly denied. But, at any rate, Aldrich had left Washington, and for the Arctic regions, but for Mobile.

The girl followed him to Mobile, not believing in what she had heard in Washington. According to the story subsequently told by the girl, but denied by Aldrich, he treated her with great cruelty, and she had told him that she had represented herself as his wife in the Signal Office in Washington, and compelled her to swear to a written statement that she had never been married to Aldrich. This she is said to have said she did to prevent Aldrich from being prosecuted for bigamy. At any rate the girl became ill in Mobile and was sent to Cincinnati, where after ten days' illness she died. Dr. I. T. Knox, of Cincinnati, one of the attending physicians, certified that she died of "acute exhaustion, superinduced by extreme mental anxiety and grief." The other doctor in attendance said simply that the girl "died of a broken heart."

William Hooper sent to Cincinnati for his daughter's remains, and they were brought to this city. Yesterday afternoon they were buried in Greenwood, her mother and brothers, with a very few friends, being the only participants in the last sad act of this domestic tragedy. -New York World.

Regarding Valises.
"Did you ever travel with a valise?" asked a man of a party of acquaintances the other evening. Every man in the party had traveled with a valise, and regarded the speaker with interest. "A small valise," continued the speaker, "can give a man more trouble than a stone-bruise. It is just large enough to keep one corner of his mind turned down, just like the dog-eared of a school-boy's spelling-book. The thought of losing it is as perplexing as losing a nickel. The majority of men are more perplexed over losing a nickel than over a five-dollar bill. Isn't that true?" and the speaker turned to the Gazette man. "You have lost a nickel, haven't you?"

"Just about,"

"You have, no doubt, noted the difference between losing a nickel and a five dollar bill."

"Though the Gazette man had never suffered such a financial loss, he was willing to admit the force of the gentleman's argument."

"Well, I was speaking about valises. Several days ago I took a trip from Little Rock. I had a small valise. In the hurry of getting ready for the journey I only put one shirt, a collar and a revolver in the thing. As usual, I saved a dozen more with valises like mine. At night the crowd of valises must have gotten mixed up, for a man took my valise and left one exactly like it. I chuckled as I thought of the man's coming surprise, and rather longed for a chance to open the leather receptacle that had been left for me. I didn't dare open it on the train, fearing that some one would notice my surprise. When the train stopped for supper I went around to the back of the house and opened up."

"What did it contain?"

"Nothing but a long bowie-knife and a tin cup. Any man who swears valises will get choked. Next day another change was made. The contents of the valise that fell to me were a baby apron, a bottle of salts and a shoemaker's hammer. If the world will listen to a suggestion, the man with a valise will stop traveling." -Little Rock Gazette.

At Delaware Station, N. J., when the sky was perfectly clear, there was seen recently, on the Delaware River, a complete circle embracing all the colors of the rainbow. It lay flat upon the water while the sun was reflected from the center in a thousand beams of dazzling light. The ring was probably one hundred feet in diameter

H. A. PATTERSON, P. M.

Died of a Broken Heart.
About a year ago Ossian Aldrich, an employee in the Signal Station, while on duty in this city, became acquainted with the family of William Hooper, of No. 118 West Tenth Street. William Hooper who is a prosperous butcher in the Jefferson Market, had a daughter Julia, who is nineteen years old and prettier than it is the general lot of girls to be. Soon after meeting Julia Hooper Aldrich's attentions became very marked, much to the annoyance of the girl's parents. All remonstrances were in vain, however, for in April last Aldrich and Julia Hooper were married by the Rev. Robert Kidd.

About three weeks after the marriage Aldrich went to Washington and soon after the young wife followed him. Only a month was spent there, when the girl returned to her parents. A few days later, Mrs. William Hooper says, a letter from Aldrich announced that he had been ordered to go on an Arctic expedition. Mrs. Hooper, fearing that all was not right, advised her daughter to go to Washington at once, which she did. There, it is said, the girl heard that Aldrich was already married, but this Aldrich stoutly denied. But, at any rate, Aldrich had left Washington, and for the Arctic regions, but for Mobile.

The girl followed him to Mobile, not believing in what she had heard in Washington. According to the story subsequently told by the girl, but denied by Aldrich, he treated her with great cruelty, and she had told him that she had represented herself as his wife in the Signal Office in Washington, and compelled her to swear to a written statement that she had never been married to Aldrich. Mutton Sheep.

THERE is a phase of sheep raising which does not require large outlay and costly preparation to conduct, and while it will prove more profitable on the amount of capital invested and care required than the large flocking mainly for their wool, is within the reach of every farmer, and should be a part of his farming. This is small flocks of mutton sheep, within ten or fifteen miles of large towns. Good mutton sells higher than beef in all the butcher shops, and the cause is a scarcity of mutton sheep. The supply for the home market is of a very inferior quality, and even this is held at a luxury price. Here is a market at the very door of farmers where all they can raise of good quality mutton sheep and lambs can be readily disposed of at tip-top prices, and without the intervention of middlemen, or any transportation charges to cut down the profits. Every farmer could purchase and take care of from twenty to fifty head of mutton sheep, which each year would bring him a very nice little return. Of course they could not be kept running out at the mercy of dogs--they must be kept in a pasture and carefully housed at night, particularly in regions where there are dogs likely to interfere with them. But really, according to this writer, the chronic terror of dog depredation on sheep is more of a bugaboo than anything else, if a farmer gives proper attention to his flock. Of course, if he neglects it and allows the sheep to ramble at will, he will lose them. If every farmer kept a flock of sheep, sheep-killing dogs would not be so plenty. A pup raised on a farm with sheep is not apt to be a sheep thief, unless he is of the lowest type of the sneaking cur.

But twenty-five to a flock of ewes numbering twenty-five to 100 head of mutton sheep is sufficient inducement for every farmer to bestow the requisite care to keep such a flock in the best condition. He would soon find that nothing else on the farm brought him half the profit on the investment, and the present is the best time to make this addition to his stock. Get a bunch of common ewes which are under five years old, and then add to the flock a good grade of Cotswold male. Keep the largest and best formed ewe lambs of this cross, sell the indifferent ewes and all the male lambs. Repeat this practice for three years, fattening, and disposing of the old stock as the young supplies their place, and at the end of the third year sell the old male and get a young animal of the same breed, and a most valuable flock of mutton sheep will have been built up, worth per head, more than double the original stock, while the yearly profit from wool, lambs and old sheep will have returned a larger comparative profit than any other item on the farm. A home market there is no danger of glutting with mutton sheep, and raising them gives more profit and speedier returns than any other stock on the farm. -Kansas Farmer.

Advice Gratis.
NEVER be idle; always have something on your hands, said the glove-dealer.

Never use tobacco in any form, as the father remarked when he took the quid out of his mouth and put his pipe in.

Count ten before you speak. This is peculiarly applicable to caucus usage, except that it might stop the stream of eloquence that now make the American caucus so edifying.

Never leave that till to-morrow which you can do today. Put in all the loafing you can do today; you may not get a chance to-morrow.

"Do as I do, can't you?" These are words that are continually being acted out. If you follow another's example he will presently turn another's example, and you are apting him. Some folks are hard to satisfy.

Never say dye! The barber will overlook it in you, however, if you say it to him.

When a man advises you to take some patent remedy, make sure that he isn't its proprietor or an undertaker.

Never take offense. It will not be considered cross-grained, however, if you take a fence when a Texan steer is looking at you between his horns.

Never speak ill of another. If you can't say a good word, say nothing. And the man who said this went out the next morning, and lo and behold! his acquaintances had every one of them lost their power of speech. And he marveled greatly.

Jones says that he has always made it a point to obey his parents. When he was young they advised him to keep away from the water. "And if you will believe it," he says, "I haven't allowed a drop of water to come near me this ten years--excepting what was necessary for bathing purposes, you know."

We asked the provision dealer to advise us which kind of potatoes to purchase, Early Rose or Jackson, and he unhesitatingly said, "Jackson." Because he happened to have Jackson and the man across the way Early Rose didn't prejudice him in the least, it will be observed.

Lawyers and doctors get paid for their advice. Other people give it away with a sublime generosity.

When your friend says, "Take my advice," don't do it. Tell him you would rather take anything but that from him. It is his brightest possession.

"Let's cut off our tails!" Thus said the fox. His tail had been cut off. It was but a coincidence, but his proposition was tabled without dividing the house.

Advice is like a railroad train--easy to take, but hard to follow. -Boston Transcript.

MORE than twenty years ago Niagara witnessed a tragedy which, while of a heart-rending character, was marked by an act of true heroism seldom equaled in grandeur. Mr. Charles Addison, a young man about twenty-three or twenty-four years of age, was affianced to Miss De Forest, both being residents of Buffalo. One day a happy party, comprising Mrs. De Forest, a younger daughter, Eva, a beautiful child five or six years old, and "Charley" Addison, as his friends were accustomed to call him, visited the Falls. They crossed the bridge to Goat Island, and, while resting under the trees, little Eva strayed away from the group, and approaching the bank of the narrow but deep and swift stream that rushes between Goat Island and the main American rapids, was running herself by casting sticks into the water, and watching them as they were whirled swiftly away. Mrs. De Forest, alarmed for her child's safety, requested Charley Addison to go after her and bring her back. Charley at once proceeded to the bank, and, thinking to give the little one a fright, approached her stealthily from behind, and, catching her under the arms, held her over the stream. The startled child threw up her little arms over her head, and instantly she slipped through young Addison's hands and fell into the rapids.

The realization of the horrible calamity must have come to Addison's brain with the rapidity of the lightning's flash. He saw that his rash act had cost the child's life--that only one desperate chance of saving her remained--that the world was at an end for him forever. Tearing off his coat, he rushed along the bank until he had passed little Eva, who was kept aloft by her clothing; then, plunging in ahead of her, he seized the child and desperately attempted to throw her up on the bank. As he made the effort he fell back in the rapids and was whirled over the small fall that intervenes between the American Horse Shoe Falls. Little Eva struck the top of the bank, but all power had apparently gone from her, and she rolled back into the stream and was hurried to her dreadful fate. The mother and sister stood powerless and paralyzed with horror while the tragedy, almost instantaneous in its action, passed before their eyes, leaving its dark cloud hanging over all their future lives. Charley Addison had made a hero's atonement for his thoughtless and reckless act. His father, who was an only son, was in the habit of visiting the Falls once a week for years after the tragedy, and he would sit for hours gazing at the spot where his son and little Eva had met their deaths. He became well known at the Falls, and there were many who believed that he would one day voluntarily seek the same fate that his son, in his heroism, had courted. But his sad pilgrimage had no such ending. -N. Y. Hour.

The Leading American Newspaper

The New York Tribune for 1881
THE LARGEST CIRCULATION AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

During the past year THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE reached the largest circulation it ever attained, with the single exception of a short period in the first Lincoln campaign. It is a larger circulation, and more widely distributed over the whole country than any ever enjoyed by any other newspaper in the United States. This fact may be taken as the verdict of the American People on the Tribune's political force, its fidelity to sound principles, and its merits as a newspaper.

For 1881 THE TRIBUNE will try to deserve equally well of the public. It will labor for, and it confidently expects the incoming Administration to promote, a free and unobstructed South and North sound money, protection to Home Industry, judicious liberality in Internal Improvements, and a civil Service conducted on business principles, on the theory of efficiency, not of ignoring or degrading politics.

The Tribune's special features, its editorial department, its literary, scientific and religious features, the standard market reports, will all be kept up, and, as opportunities offer, extended.

THE TRIBUNE PREMIUMS.
THE TRIBUNE has never been equalled in the substantial and permanent value of its premiums. A Treatise on Comparative Religion, and its list this year two of the most desirable it has ever offered. Note the following:

The Great Bible Concordance.
AN ANALYTICAL CONCORDANCE TO THE BIBLE, on a carefully new plan, containing every word in alphabetical order arranged under its Hebrew or Greek original, with the literal meaning of each, and its pronunciation. Includes 11,000 references, 11,000 beyond Concordance; marking 20,000 various readings in the New Testament; with the latest and most reliable geographical, topographical and antiquarian, etc., etc. By Robert Young, LL.D., author of a new Literal Translation of the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures, etc.

In one handsome quarto volume, containing over 1,000 three-column pages, very substantially bound in cloth. The pages and type are the same size as in the original Concordance. Dictionary. It is at once a concordance, a Greek and Hebrew and English Lexicon of Bible words, and a complete and reliable reference work. It has a Bible in it ought also to have this great help to Bible-reading and study.

This great work was originally published in England in October, 1879, and was sold at $15. We can now offer it in connection with THE TRIBUNE at the following reduced rates: For $1.00 the Concordance and one copy of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE five years, or five copies of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE one year.

For $2.00 the Concordance and twenty copies of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE one year. The postage on the Concordance is 40 cents, which the subscriber will remit if wishing it. The postage on the additional ten copies of the Bible will be cheaper than the express.

Our second new premium for this year is the Library of Universal Knowledge.

Embracing Chambers' Encyclopedia complete, omitting only some of the cuts, with extensive additions by an able corps of American editors, treating of the most important topics, and thoroughly Americanizing the entire work, adding to it over 25 percent of the latest, freshest and most valuable matter, the whole making 45 Handsome Octavo Volumes of 6 by 9 inches in size, printed in large type on good, strong, colored paper, and neatly and substantially bound in cloth.

We can offer this valuable work in connection with THE TRIBUNE as follows:
For $15 the Library of Universal Knowledge complete in 45 octavo volumes, substantially bound in cloth as above described, and THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE 5 years to one subscriber.

For $20 the Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE 5 years to one subscriber.

For $10 the Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and ten copies of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE one year.

For $25 the Library of Universal Knowledge as above described, and twenty copies of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE one year.

Five volumes of the work are now ready, the sixth is nearly through the press, and the rest will follow. It will be sent by express at the subscriber's expense. The postage, if sent by mail, will be 21 cents per volume. In packages, by express, they can be had much cheaper.

PROMPT WORK.
To induce quick action for this great premium we make the following extraordinary offer: With the first 200 orders received for THE LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE, we will send, absolutely free of charge, a copy of Moody's History of England, in three handsome volumes, printed on large type and good paper, and suitably clothed.

These books, like the others, will be sent at the subscriber's expense, by mail or express. The postage on the three volumes will be 21 cents.

A MAGNIFICENT GIFT.
Worcester's Great Unabridged Dictionary. Free!
THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE will send at subscriber's expense for freight or delivery in New York City, Free, Worcester's Great Unabridged Quarto Illustrated Dictionary, bound in sheep, edition of 1879, the very latest and very best edition of that great work, to any one remitting $10 for a single five years' subscription in advance, or five one-year subscriptions to THE WEEKLY, or $15 for a single five years' subscription in advance, or five one-year subscriptions to THE WEEKLY, or one year's subscription to THE DAILY, or $30 for a single three years' subscription in advance, or three one-year subscriptions to THE WEEKLY, or one year's subscription to THE DAILY, or $45 for a single five years' subscription in advance, or five one-year subscriptions to THE WEEKLY, or one year's subscription to THE DAILY, or $75 for a single five years' subscription in advance, or five one-year subscriptions to THE WEEKLY, or one year's subscription to THE DAILY.

For one dollar extra the Dictionary can be sent by mail to any part of the United States, while for short distances the express is much cheaper.

Large variety of Novelties, very appropriate for presents.

110 Acres Wood Land

FOR SALE!

I offer for sale 110 acres of choice Wood Land in town of Janesville. The land is adjacent to the river and about four miles from the city, and easy of access by boat or wagon. The property will only be sold entire, as I have no time to look after small lots. This is a rare opportunity for several gentlemen to club together and each buy a wood lot. Every farmer should have a wood lot. Wood will always command a large price in the Janesville market, and its value will increase from year to year.

Price low and terms easy. For further information call on J. H. Barker, town of Janesville, or address the undersigned.

cept a similar position in Kansas, his place being filled by the promotion of

Mr. F. E. Teetsch, son of Cyrus Teetsch,

Esq., of Lima, Rock county. Messrs.

Belknap and Teetsch are both graduates of Valentine Brothers' Telegraph

School.

—There was a goodly number present at the meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, yesterday.

The opening exercises consisted of music by the choir, prayer by Mr. N. Dutton, and a scripture lesson bringing out Cain's reply, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

The leader made a few remarks on this query, and was followed by Rev. Mr. Wells, who showed in what sense every man is his brother's keeper. Mr. Bliss, who is wide-awake in the temperance cause, made a ten minutes' speech. Mr. Monroe, of Michigan, gave a few minutes' talk, full of good advice to young men. At the close of the service from the Woman's Christian

Temperance Union, asking the legislature to submit to a vote of the people a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, were circulated and received many signatures.

THE DAIRYMEN'S CONVENTION.

The coming convention of the Northwestern Dairymen's Association, in this city, February 8th, representing as it does the entire Northwest, is of peculiar importance to the farmers of Rock and continguous counties. The annual production of butter and cheese in Wisconsin alone is about $10,000,000, and of the entire Northwest not far from $40,000,000.

It will be seen at once that here is a vast material interest which will bring together its representative men from Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota.

These men have been leaders in shaping the thought which has finally produced this vast revenue. Rock county farmers have unfortunately, we think, paid but little attention to dairying.

The county of Sheboygan, although composed of only fifteen towns, produced in 1880 over a million dollars worth of butter and cheese. Such a production represents improved farms and buildings;

a large increase of live stock to a given area of territory and in the end makes a business man of every farmer. No county in the State has better natural facilities for productive dairying than

Rock. Its soil produces the best of grass, its water is pure, and its farmers represent a high average of intelligence. It ought to be the banner county of the State in this production.

Idea he at the foundation of progress and increase of real wealth. What we lack is in getting our ideas reduced to practice. We hope our farmers will make a grand rally on this convention, and attend its entire session. In the very nature of things they cannot but be greatly benefited and stimulated by such attendance. Several papers of live absorbing interest to farmers will be read and discussed at the convention, among which will be one on pleuro-pneumonia, by Dr. A. S. Heath, President of the

New York Farmers' Club, "Ensilage"—or the system of keeping green fodder in a silo or pit. "How to Conduct a Dairy Farm," by Hon. Hiram Smith, the leading dairyman of the State. "Diseases of Dairy Cattle, Causes and Remedies," by Dr. N. H. Paaren, of Chicago, and a number of other practical topics.

The banquet to be held at the Myers'

house, will be an event of much interest, as it is always an occasion of mirth and music, and it is expected that it will be lighted 12, or 12 more than the average number lighted the previous year. The amount paid for extinguishing and lighting the lamps was a little higher than before, the Counsel authorizing an advance in pay. The average cost per lamp for gas, for lighting, extinguishing and cleaning, was only $17.87. The lamps were lighted 204 nights of the year.
